

ID	Description
CM280	For physical security devices like door locks, barriers, and closures, if the device supports standard commissioning then the QR code and power source are located on the secure side of the property.
CM282	For physical security devices like door locks, barriers, and closures, if the device supports standard commissioning then the device documentation includes a warning to the user about the window of vulnerability after initial power up.